ABOUT GUNLAKE

Gunlake is an Australian-owned, independent company that draws on three generations of experience supplying the Australian construction industry.

Gunlake Concrete is committed to combining cutting-edge, Australia-first technology with old-fashioned know-how and a fundamental dedication to personal service.

Our state of the art storage and processing capabilities at our advanced plants mean we'll get every job done large and small. Our computerised mixing process and automated colouring system are amongst the only in Australia and guarantee consistency and reliability throughout every batch of concrete.

With our head office based on-site at our South Western Sydney plant we're connected to local conditions and take a hands-on approach when it comes to managing our busy fleet of trucks.

EXPERTS IN CONCRETE

Gunlake Concrete utilise our in-house testing facilities to ensure you consistently receive top quality ready mix concrete.

We also use independent testing to ensure “you – our customer” that we only offer the best batch designs that cover your ready mix concrete requirements.

Our computerised mixing process and automated colouring system is among the first computer controlled coloured concrete facility in the industry, which guarantees consistency and reliability throughout every batch of concrete. High volume warehouse slabs or high-rise, you can be assured that what you order is what you receive.

“The Gunlake commitment to excellence in product and our service is as strong as our world-class concrete.”

OUR DELIVERY FLEET

Gunlake Concrete uses an up-to-date agitator fleet that ensures that your order is on time and in the condition you expect.

Satellite Tracking on every truck means we can monitor the progress of concrete deliveries from the batch plant to your site. With 3 plants servicing the Sydney region, and more plants coming online soon, we can cover large volume jobs.

We realise that big jobs take time so call us to discuss our batching hours and delivery capability.

We boast Australia's largest 10-wheel concrete trucks, which gives Gunlake Concrete a marked edge over our local competitors.

Not only are our trucks the most reliable on the road and keep our on-time rates at the top of the industry, but they also give us the ability to get the largest loads to your site as soon as you need them.

So you can not only count on the supreme quality of Gunlake Concrete's specifically formulated products, but you can also feel confident that our promise to deliver on-time is driven by our investment in Australia's best concrete truck.
